

“Memory Game: The Five Senses”

This memory game has been designed in order to practice the five senses. It is a topic included in Natural Science. As the contents of Sciences are more difficult for our students, this game stimulates their memory and, at the same time, it is also useful to learn new vocabulary. They can play in teams helping each other to match the different pictures with the corresponding words.

