FINAL PROJECT

Interdisciplinary Work Subject 5Areas: English and Visual Arts

The main objective of this lesson plan is the integration of the English learning skills to describe the colour and mixtures and the improvement of the colour techniques in a Visual Arts class.

The students develop a multi approach from the understanding of images and learning more vocabulary with given examples in the composition of nouns and adjectives and also they will apply the previous knowledge of concepts in a range of possibilities given by the teacher who is a mediator showing the necessary tools for the students to develop an artistic task.

The advantage of this learning process is that while the teacher is giving instructions in the English language and explaining certain ways to describe the colour and the mixtures the students are reading and assimilating certain words that they will be able to use in a more complicated form.

They recognize and analyze the concepts in groups to create their own learning process individually with certain materials. So at the end they put into practice certain models that has been previously taught in other examples and develop a communicative language to describe how to use a richer vocabulary related to the description of colours.
